

TED GLOSIER '71

Duchesne High School was definitely a family affair for the Glosiers. Ted graduated from DHS in 1971 along with his twin brother, Tim, Tom in 1970, and Joe in 1978. Ted's parents, Gene '48 and Betty '48, were active at Duchesne during these years. Gene, along with many others, was instrumental in the formation of the Men's Club — known today as the Athletic Boosters. Funding was scarce at this time and this group of supporters took it upon themselves to expand the football and soccer fields to facilitate the beginning of Duchesne's football program. Ted remembers coming home from college on weekends to help men like Mel Plackemeier, Norb Wapelhorst, Paul Blessing, Walt Schaeffer, and his dad grill 400+ steaks for their major fundraiser — The Pigskin Dinner Dance.

During his high school years Ted participated in football, basketball, and track. He was a Key Club Member, Letterman's Club Member, and class president. Ted has the prestigious distinction of being the first DHS student to receive an athletic scholarship from Mizzou, where he graduated with a business degree in 1975. Upon graduation, he returned to St. Charles and began his career in the development and construction business.

Ted married his high school sweetheart, Sue Eckelkamp '71, in 1975. They have three children, who all also happen to be graduates of DHS — Jeff Glosier '97, Angela Glosier O'Sadnick '99, and Julie Glosier Dreher '05. Their spouses are all graduates of Duchesne as well ... Megan O'Brien Glosier '97, Kevin O'Sadnick '99, and Corey Dreher '05.

Coaching sports for his children at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton and later at St. Cletus kept Ted busy during his children's elementary school years. The focus then shifted to Duchesne when his son Jeff entered high school. Involvement in the Booster Club expanded into being president of the Duchesne Advisory Board. At that time, along with many dedicated volunteers and fundraisers, the much-needed stadium renovation project became a reality. Ted enjoyed being part of the renovation project, and is grateful to all of the men and women who recognized the value of the sports programs at Duchesne that he, and so many others, have benefited from throughout the years.

In addition to his involvement at DHS, Ted is also a lifelong member of the Knights of Columbus, has been a member of the Site Improvement Association Labor Negotiation committee, has served on the St. Peters City Planning and Zoning Commission, and is currently a member of the City of St. Charles Public Works Board.
